Navigation
- Try to make the D&D logo the link to the home button

Content
- Refering back to Wikipedia content pages
  - (General Overview, History, Gameplay, etc.)
  - The reference copy for each section on Wikipedia is lengthy
    - Can cut down to more digestible, core points and information
    - Still try to keep the essential bits though

Design
- Consider variations in displaying the body copy
  - Three column format could be difficult to read
  - Singular columns or paragraphs recommended
    - Can reduce paragraph width via images (ex: side by side, etc.)
  - Consider using the actual D&D site as a reference
- Try adding a footer
